that uskiness is not fatal. The opinion is not sound, for this unnatural hairiness is far from being a trilling matter.

True, it may not kill the patient, but is very apt to affect her disposition, and if unnarried is likely to injure her prospects in life, and may eventually ruin her health and happiness by producing a mental disquietude, which in many cases verges on melantholy. The frequent occurrence of superfluous hair among insane women has been observed, and no doubt that the mental worry caused by this facial hairiness has acted as an exciting cause and tended to develop insanity, for what greater facial deformity can any woman have than an incipient beard? To a sensitive, refined lady it is almost unendurable; she knows that it is sure to attract attention and to cause remark. Dr. Van Dyck is now successfully treating a remarkably interesting case in this city of a young lady, a member of one of the most eminent Washington families. When her mother brought her to the doctor's office, two months ago, she was on the very verge of insanity hers was indeed a pliable case. She is not more than twenty years of age, with parents who aimost idolize her; has a lovely home, and is surrounded by every combot and luxury that heart could wish for. But with all this she had this excessive hiroutical growth, which marred her life and cast a gloon over the entire household. Her upper lip, china, and chesks were covered with a thick. Seavy growth of back hair, which, from cutting and extracting, grew as luxuriantly as the beard of a man. She would section to the entire household. Her upper lip, china, and chesks were covered with a thick, heavy growth of back hair, which, from cutting and extracting, grew as luxuriantly as the beard of a man. She would section to the substitution of the heavy to the happy, as a result of the operation of electrolysis.

Ladies frequently assert that this is the great torment of their lives. On if Loudonive set rid of these the only treatment in the world) that will permanently and forever remove superfluous hair. The doctor removes this unsightly blomish by the operation of cleetrolysis, which is the electric needle process. He most urgently advises every lady afflicted with this unnatural growth to avail themselves of his skill at once. Remember this: When these hairs are removed by this method they will never return as long as you live. On the other hand, if they are neglected they will be a life-time blemish. D. W. Moory: Why not I, too, write a testimonial in favor of your new and periect tailor system for for dress cutting. There is not a lady that lives who could help recommending your system after she had taken one or two lessons. It is the very image of perfection and simplicity, and is worthy of the highest appreciation from the intelligent public, and is bound to triumph over all other systems, and the day will soon come when a dressmaker must use your system or she will have no custom.

[Hessix Girrand, Gallipolis, Gallia county, Ohio,

Mr. D. W. Moony—Dear Sir: I am perfectly de-lighted with your tailor system of square measure-ment. Any lady who doubts its merits should give it a trial and she will be doubly rewarded. I would not do without it, and take great pleasure in recommending it. Yours respectfully.

D. W. Moody: I have learned your new tailor sys-tem of dress cutting. It is the most perfect ever invented. Every lady ought to learn it. I can and will cut and make a dress of the finest goods and guarantee it to fit perfectly, without trying it on, for any lady who lives. Yours truly. FANNIE E. WILBURN, Dressmaker,

I have been in the employ of Mr. D. W. Moody for the peat seven months as teacher, and can sately re-commend his new tailor system as being the best and must perfect used, as has been stated time and again by ladies of our city and elsewhere who have in vesti-gated and learned legions of systems, scales, and charts. Respectfully, Miss MINSTE ELLHER, 68 LOCK STRUCK. Ms. D. W. Moony: I have learned your system of the scatting, and am delighted with it. Do not believ any mode of dress cutting castling castling castly exact satisfaction yours and so easily learned. Nothing intricate abor it. The more I work with it the more I love it.

LOSENA WOODS.

I like the fashionable cutting of Moody's garments, which I have learned. It never falls, and gives full satisfaction. I would recommend all ladies wishing to learn dress unting to go to Mr. D. W. Moody, for his fit is the ornament of the body.

186 Pete street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mu. D. W. Moody, Esq.—Dear Sir: I recommend your system of square measurement for dress cutting, and think it excels all others for perfect fitting, and without the changing of a single stitch or the use of paper or patterns. I advise all ladies to learn it. Yours respectfully. Grace D. Hardhave, 204 Eastern avenus, Cincinnati, Ohio.

I take pleasure in telling the public that I took m first lesson from Mr. D. W. Moody Thursday befor Christmas, but having the least idea of cutting, filting or even sewing a dress. Have since made myself twe suits. I consider my money well thrested.

Miss Litalie Todesyners, all Pleasant street, Ciucinnati, Olio,
